

Let Printmaking Bring CHANGE to Your Classroom!

NAEA National Conference New York City 2017

Presenters: Kim Soule, Missi Carini, Jennifer Sims, Katrina
Bullington

Sheraton Carnegie West/3rd floor

Friday March 3rd, 2017 11:00 AM – 12:50 PM

Greenwood High School

Linoleum Block Printing

Focus on Positive and Negative space using familiar objects....Art Tools of course!

Or
Tools of a career

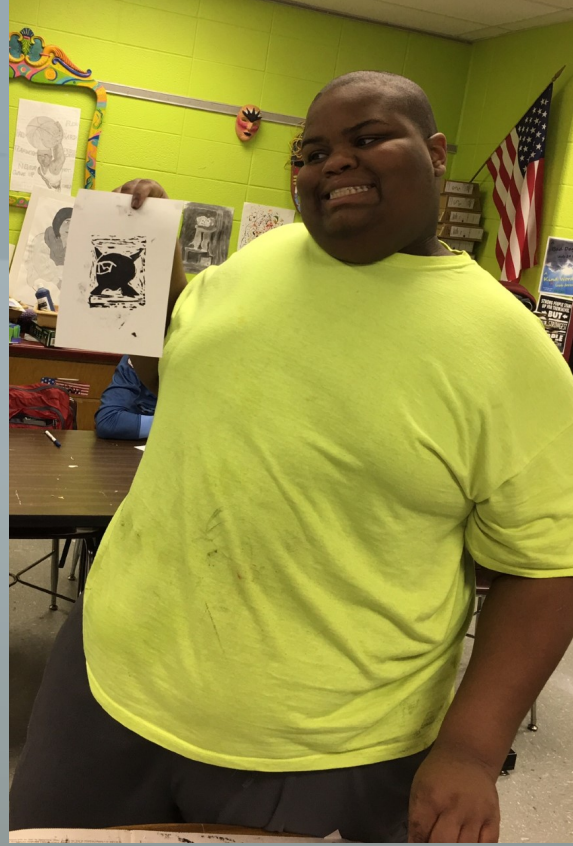

Linoleum Block Printing

❁ Collaboration: Science

❁ Anatomy

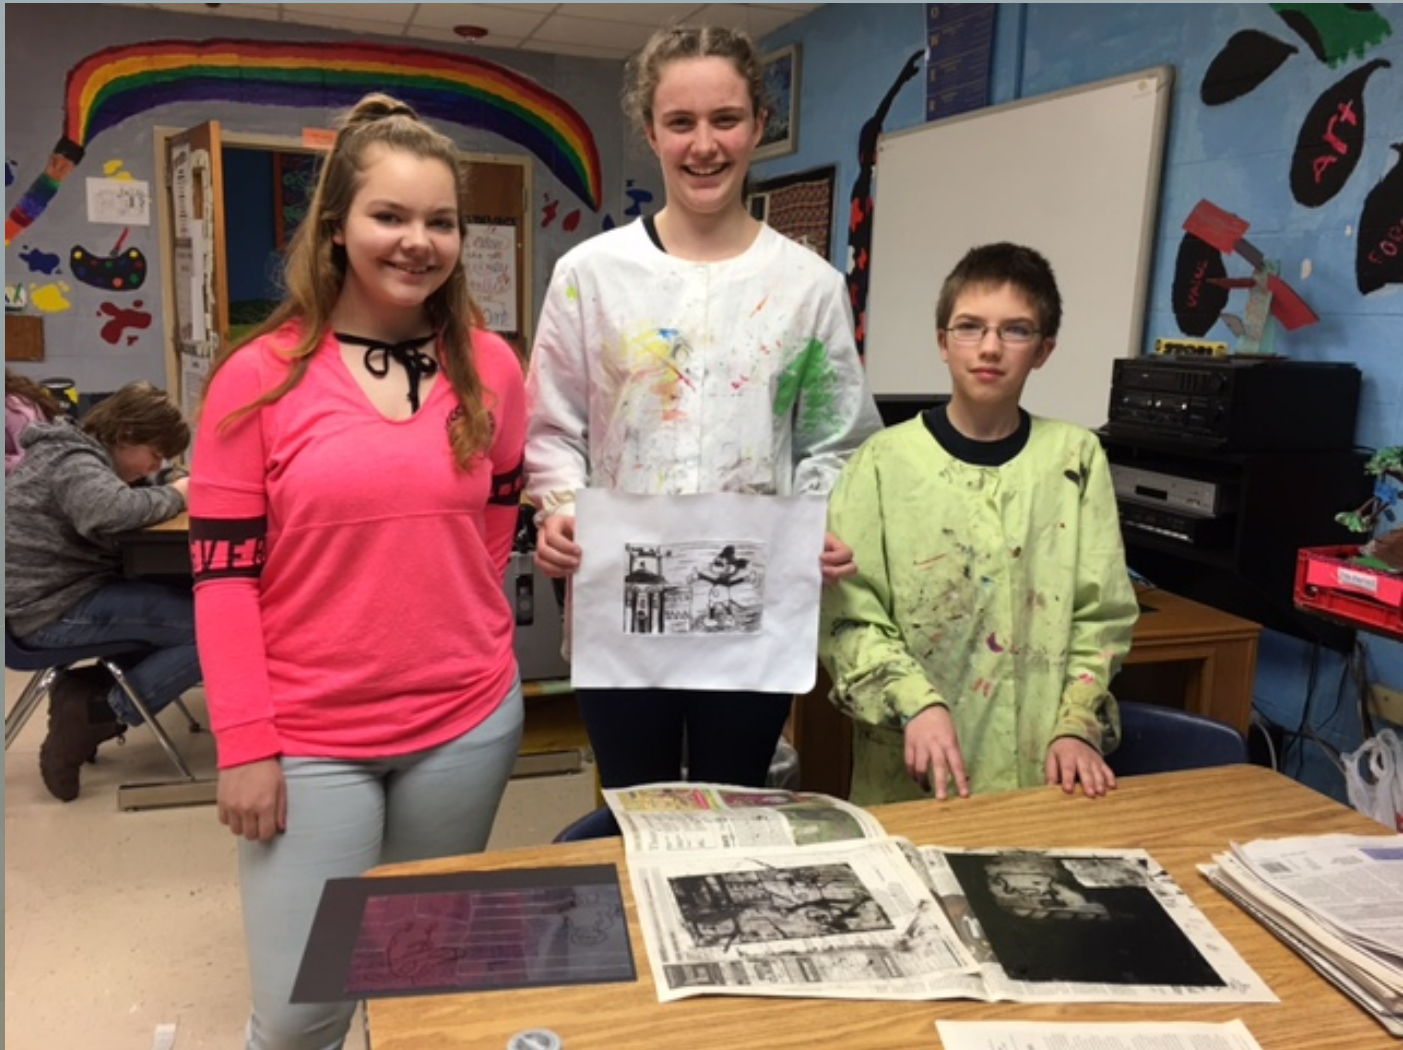

Special Needs

Students with special needs can experience a great sense of accomplishment using the printmaking process!

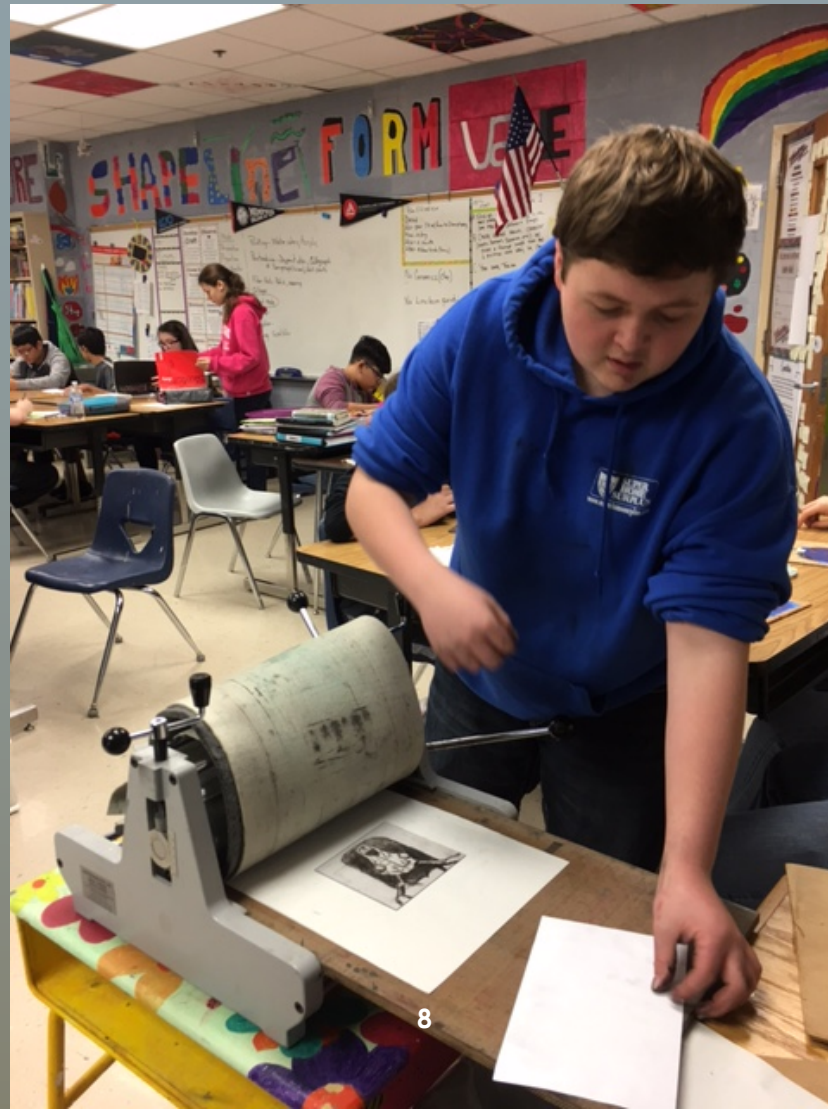

Finding your “Art Voice”

Warren East Middle School

Printmaking Press

National Scholastic Art Award Winner

Warren East Middle School

Stephen Claborn

Gold Key

Winner

Stephen's Tree

Dry-point Etching

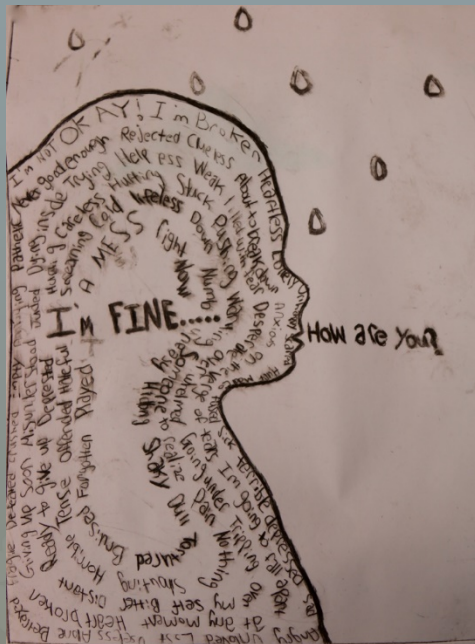

Nature and emphasis

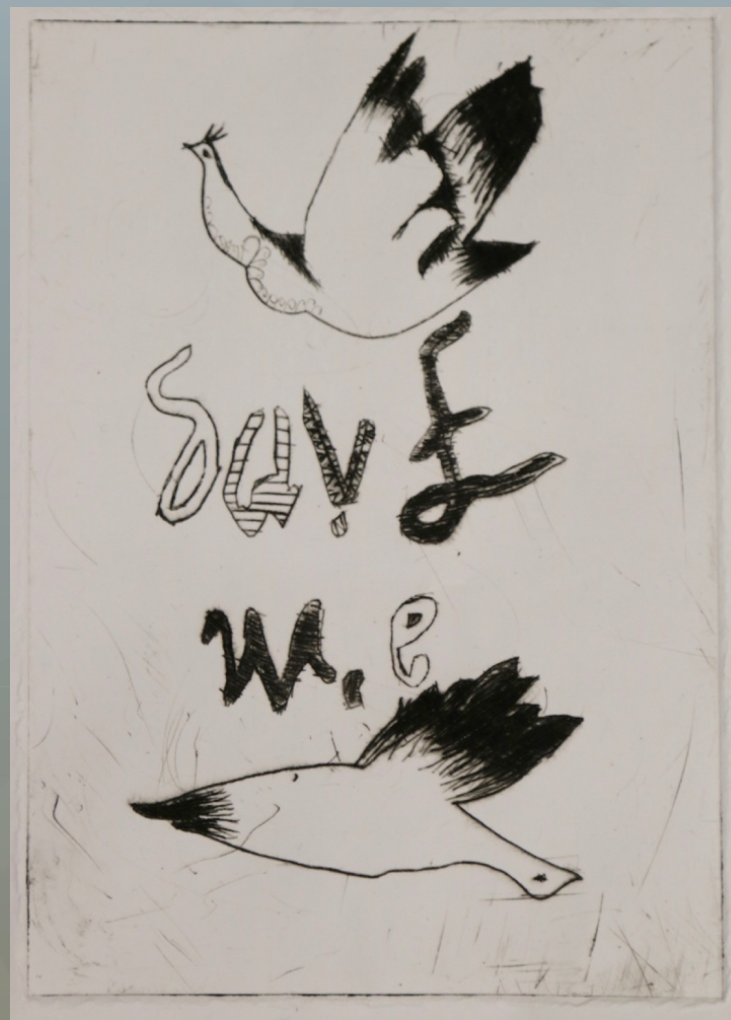

Dry- Point Etch

Human Expression

Dry-Point Etching

Have something to say!

Munfordville K-8 School

VARIOUS PRINTMAKING TECHNIQUES

ELEMENTARY &
MIDDLE LEVELS

Integration – Language Arts,
Science, Math, Social Studies

Printmaking with Special Needs

Connections to science and literature

Gyotaku with Special Needs

Gyotaku with Dream Rocket Project at Mammoth Cave National Park

Ukiyo-e Style Scenes from everyday life

Social Studies and Language
Arts connections.

Can be created in monotype or Styrofoam reductive relief print

Getting Started with an Idea

Student Name _____ Grade _____

Answer the following statement with three different words.

"Once long ago stood _____."

1.

2.

3.

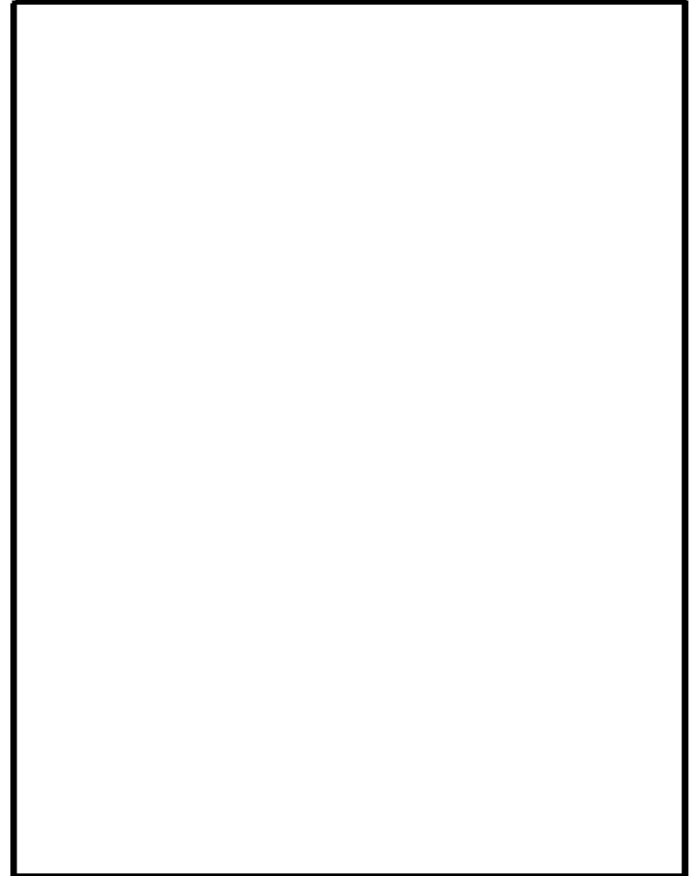

Create an icon for each word that you wrote above.

1.

2.

3.

You are going to now draw your three icons based on size. 1st icon will be the largest going to the 3rd icon being the smallest.

Ohio County Middle School 7-8

Experimenting With The Gelli Plates

Making sure to incorporate the Elements and Principles into our Prints

Using stamps, stencils, feathers or creating our own ideas we create amazing mono prints

