

FRIDAY

4:00 - 4:50 PM

A Happy Ending: The Marriage of Choice-Based Art and Special Education

Katherine Douglas, Renee Nolan

Children struggling in academic classrooms often look and perform much differently in the art studio. A speech/language therapist and a choice-based art teacher share effective collaboration for student success.

Useful Links:

Center for Applied Special Technology

<http://www.cast.org/research/udl/index.html>

“What Matters Most in Inclusive Education: A Practical Guide for Moving Forward” by Voltz, Nettye & Ford, 2001.

<http://thegraycenter.org/social-stories/what-are-social-stories>

<http://www.5pointscale.com/>

http://education.byu.edu/comd/social_competence.html

Douglas & Jaquith. Engaging Learners Through Artmaking Teachers College Press, 2009

MAIN WEBSITE:

<http://teachingforartisticbehavior.org>

TAB FORUM

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/TAB-ChoiceArtEd/>

FACEBOOK

<http://tinyurl.com/2extz79>

PROMISING PRACTICE FROM DEPT OF ED.

<http://knowledgeloom.org/tab>

contact information:

Renee Nolan: mvreeneenolan@gmail.com,

Kathy Douglas: twoducks@aol.com

Twitter: @twoducks